The forecasts presented above are based on the preconditions set out below in “Preconditions for the April 2019 and October 2019 Earnings Forecasts.” The actual operating revenue, operating profit, recurring profit, net income, and dividend may vary due to changes in circumstances such as asset acquisitions and dispositions, tenant turnover, unexpected maintenance and repair costs and other expenses, changes in interest rates, and the issuance of new shares. These forecasts should therefore not be construed as a guarantee of such results. Ichigo Office will revise the forecast should a substantial discrepancy emerge between the forecast and actual operating results.

3. Reason for April 2019 Earnings Forecast Revision

Ichigo Office is revising up its earnings forecast to reflect the impact of asset acquisitions and sales and strong operating results.

Specifically, since its previous earnings forecast announcement, Ichigo Office acquired the Ichigo Uchi Honmachi Building on September 28, 2018.¹ In addition, as announced in today’s release “Acquisition of Two Office Assets and Sale of Two Non-Office Assets,” Ichigo Office is acquiring two office assets, the Ichigo Minami Otsuka Building on December 21, 2018 and the Ichigo Nogizaka Building on December 28, 2018, and selling two non-office retail assets, the Ichigo Machida East Building and the Ichigo Shin Yokohama Arena Dori Building, on December 20, 2018.

The sale prices of today’s sales are 22.1% above Ichigo Office’s book value, so they will generate JPY 645 million in gains on sales in the April 2019 period.² With operating results also robust, Ichigo Office is revising up its April 2019 earnings forecast, increasing forecast operating revenue by 11.5% and the forecast dividend by 12.2%.

Of the JPY 645 million in gains on sales, JPY 376 million will be retained to fund growth investments. Ichigo Office will continue to work to drive higher earnings for shareholders via value-add capex and asset acquisitions.

² Book Value is an estimate based upon the most recent book value, adjusted for expected capital expenditures and depreciation through the Closing Date.
